

WHOLESALE ARRESTS ARE MADE TODAY OF SUPPOSED DYNAMITE CONSPIRATORS

OVER TWENTY MEN ACCUSED BY INDICTMENTS OF GRAND JURY, TAKEN INTO CUSTODY.

HIGH LABOR OFFICERS

Of The International Association of Bridge and Iron Workers Included—Leaders Taken in Many Cities.

Indianapolis, Feb. 14.—By what was said to be the most sweeping federal action of its kind ever taken, the U. S. government today within a few hours arrested a majority of the 31 men indicted for alleged complicity in a dynamite conspiracy, the scope of which was nation wide and continued for a period of six years.

CHARLES W. MILLER BRINGS ABOUT INDICTMENT OF LABOR LEADERS.

Indianapolis, Ind.—The indictment of 32 labor leaders in the various bomb outrages, which have occurred during the last six years brings to the forefront one of the most aggressive prosecutors in the government service in Mr. Charles Wesley Miller, United States district attorney at Indianapolis.

It was largely through his efforts that the indictments were returned upon the confessions of Otis E. McManis.

In some instances the bond was fixed at $10,000 and in the aggregate the bonds required, it is said, would exceed $300,000. On advice of counsel Ryan, Hockin and Butler, declined to make a statement, until they had an opportunity to confer.

"Mr. Ryan who is 57 years old, is under a severe nervous strain and is in no condition to talk of his arrest," said Newton M. Harding, attorney for the iron workers. "This is the crisis of his life when he becomes a criminal I may permit him to issue a formal statement."

Ryan and Hockin this afternoon issued statements in which they declared themselves innocent of having violated any law.

Fred M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, was one of the high officials arrested.

CHICAGO CHINAMAN TAKEN IN BELOIT ON MURDER CHARGE

Murderer of Mock Chun in Chicago Last Night Arrested as He Stepped from Train in Beloit.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—Word was received by the Chicago police this morning that the Chinaman who murdered Mock Chun here last night, had been arrested as he left a passenger train at Beloit today. He will be returned here at once.

Conductor Given Clue. The search for the slayer was transferred to Beloit when the passenger conductor notified the police that a Chinese Chinaman who answered the description of the suspect in the case, had boarded a train for Beloit shortly after the crime occurred.

It was feared that the shooting of Mock Chun, an officer of the 11th Street, might precipitate a long war. The dying man's last words were that he had been shot in the back by a man who was a member of the Chinese, Shot Without Warning.

Chin, who recently came to Chicago from Philadelphia, was working in the rear of a store at 515 South Clark street when four men entered the place and without a word of warning, one of their number fired at him.

One shot took effect in Chin's back and the man, who was convinced that it would prove fatal, disappeared through a rear door.

Names His Assassin. A few moments later a policeman ran into the store and found the dying man upon the floor. Chin named Hong as the man who fired the shot and expired a minute later while being lifted into an ambulance.

The police believe that Hong followed Chin to Chicago from the East with the intention of murdering him.

NEW SUGAR TARIFF CAUSE FOR URGING CUBAN RECIPROCITY

Necessity of Cuban Treaty is Explained Today at Department of State in Washington.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The necessity of the proposed new reciprocity treaty between the United States and Cuba was explained today at State Department on the ground that threatened revision of the sugar tariff by congress might affect a provision contained in Article 8 of the present convention which reads:

"And no sugar, the product of any foreign country, shall be admitted by treaty or convention, into the United States while this convention is in force, at a lower rate of duty than that provided by the tariff act of the United States approved July 21, 1897."

Of the nature of the new treaty little can be stated at this time, but it is understood that the Cubans will be expected to relinquish some of the advantages they have under the article, tobacco, and other products into the United States at a reduction of twenty per cent from the rate paid by other countries.

"I don't want to threaten, but if the Underwood steel bill should become a law, I would go into court and ask for a receiver to protect our creditors," declared William Metcalf, a Pittsburgh manufacturer of crucible steel, at the tariff hearing before the senate finance committee today.

STUDENTS GAIN FREE RIDE ON MADISON STREET CAR

Madison, Wis., Feb. 14.—University students returning for the second semester Sunday night took possession of a street car at the North-Western station during the conductor's temporary absence at a switch and pulled the bell cord and the motorman started the car. The car went over a mile without having the passengers alighted. The conductor arrived on the next car, but not in time to collect the fares. The motorman did not discover the ruse until all the passengers had alighted.

Attorney General Called On For Peculiar Opinion

Madison, Feb. 14.—It is not a criminal offense to hang pictures of the Christ in a school room, according to the ruling today by the attorney general in response to a request from the district attorney of Barron county. A school board in that county purchased four pictures of Christ and placed them on the walls. Some unorthodox critic threatened to get out a criminal warrant and the county prosecutor asked for legal advice.

Business Agent Held.

Sturgeon P. Meadows, of Indianapolis, business agent of the district council of the International Association of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, was arrested here today. He is an official of the three unions involved in the dynamite conspiracy.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 14.—John Barry, former walking delegate of the bridge and structural iron workers, and Paul Morris, who was active in raising a defense fund for the McNamara, were arrested here today on indictments returned recently by the grand jury in Indianapolis.

TWO FATALLY HURT AS LIMITED TRAIN DIVES FROM TRACK

Fourteen Others Seriously Injured in Wreck of Great Northern Train Near Fargo, North Dakota.

Fargo, N. Dak., Feb. 14.—Two persons were fatally injured, fourteen were seriously injured, and a score of others received minor injuries when No. 2, Oriented Limited, the Great Northern crack coast train, was wrecked at a point two miles east of Dayton, North Dakota, at 9:25 last night.

The wreck, it is believed, was caused by spreading rails.

The fatally injured: W. E. Prindle, engineer, Devil's Lake, both legs, right arm broken, and internally injured; will die.

M. A. Mace, Minneapolis, back badly injured and thought to have internal injuries; will die.

Seriously injured: Syter Berger, Oshkosh, N. Dak.; Anton Berger, Oshkosh, N. Dak.; Dennis Hockfin, Minot, N. Dak.; William Hemzle, Devils Lake; Thomas O'Brien, St. Cloud, Minn.

Holman, N. Dak.; six year old son of Shorwood, N. Dak.; Boate Herman, Seattle, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Z. W. Zollik, Bureka, Mont.; Lane Elliott, Devils Lake; A. J. Goff, Minneapolis; Clara Hansen, Oshkosh, N. Dak.; Mrs. D. E. Baldwin, Devils Lake.

The train was running at the rate of fifty miles an hour when it rounded a curve and sprang rails threw every coach of the train off the track.

The baggage car, day coach, tourist sleeper and engine's tender went over a 200 foot embankment, rolling over and turning on their sides.

The engine was literally torn to pieces while the day coach overturned completely over. All but the observation car and the two rear Pullmans followed the engine over the bank and down the steep incline.

The engine turned on its right side, plunging Engineer Prindle beneath the cab where he was rescued with difficulty. The mail car shot over the embankment and out into a field, being thrown two hundred feet from the right of way. The coaches lay on their sides in varying positions.

None of the coaches were totally wrecked and none caught fire. The lights were put out in many of the coaches and a panic followed the accident.

ROAD MACHINERY IS TOPIC FOR MEETING

Delegates at Road School at Madison Today Examine Implements and Hear Merits Explained.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 14.—This was machinery day at the road school conducted by the Wisconsin Highway commission, and the road commissioners from various counties listened to talks by representatives of machinery companies on use, care and repair. The session was intended to be especially valuable for those who are on purchasing committees. The delegates inspected the extensive display of machinery exhibits on streets near the capitol. Later in the afternoon visits were made to points of interest in Madison. Tonight at an informal meeting many phases of road and bridge work will be discussed.

Work done, difficulties overcome, methods used and costs were discussed last night by the following county highway commissioners: E. J. Morfess, Douglas county; F. M. Sergeant, Tuscola county; E. J. Mitchell, Trempealeau county; John Hinton, La Crosse county; H. Van den Hoevel, Door county.

Tomorrow's session will be held jointly with the Engineering Society of Wisconsin at the university engineering building. Friday will be engineering day.

HOLD INAUGURATION OF FIRST GOVERNOR OF ARIZONA TODAY

"Jeffersonian Simplicity" Marks Ceremony by Which George W. P. Hunt Takes Executive Seat of New State.

In the ceremonies attendant upon the birth of the state and the induction into office of its first executive, the military was conspicuous by its absence. The new governor being adverse to ostentation, there was but a meagre display, even of silk hats and frock coats which invaded Arizona only a few years ago.

Accompanied by a number of newly elected state officers and a few close friends, Governor Hunt, who began life in Arizona a quarter of a century ago as a waiter in a small mining camp restaurant at Globe, walked to the capitol building which stands about a mile from the center of the city.

The inauguration ceremonies were brief. The oath of office was administered by Chief Justice Edward Kent of the territorial supreme court, his last official act in that capacity.

Then followed the inaugural address in which Governor Hunt promised the youngest state a "Golden Rule" administration and "Golden Rule" his faith in the constitution which he helped to frame.

The new governor of Arizona is a native of Missouri and not yet fifty years of age. He came to Arizona in the early 80's and "panchoed" a burro into Globe.

Later he became a clerk in the Old Dominion Commercial Company, of which he is now president and largest owner. Seven years ago he married Miss Duettt Ellison, a native of Arizona and daughter of one of the pioneer ranchers of the territory.

They have one daughter, Virginia. Like her husband, Mrs. Hunt cares little for display. She is an excellent horsewoman and an expert shot.

KING GEORGE OPENS SECOND PARLIAMENT

King George's Speech Proves Disappointing to English People Because of Colorless Tone.

London, Feb. 14.—The second session of the second parliament of King George's reign was opened today by King George in session with all the time-honored, picturesque ceremony which always marks such occasions.

The speech from the throne which had been anticipated by the public with keen interest, was a great disappointment because of the colorless tone of the king's references to the open-making legislation mapped out by the government.

The speech was a short one. In referring to the measures to be brought before the parliament, the king said:

"A measure for the better government of Ireland will be submitted to you. A bill will be laid before you to terminate the establishment of the church in Wales and make provision for its temporality. Proposals will be brought forward for the amendment of the law with respect to the franchise and the registration of electors."

This was all the king had to say about the three measures which, if they become law, will turn state affairs into new channels. No mention was made of British relations with Germany nor was there any allusion to Viscount Haldane's recent trip to Berlin.

Relative to Chinese affairs the king said: "I trust that the circles in China may soon be terminated satisfactorily by the establishment of a stable form of government conforming with the views of the Chinese people."

Democracy Will Gather For General Peace Conference at the City Hall.

With Frank B. Shultz of Milwaukee, democratic state chairman and Joseph E. Davies of Madison, member of the national democratic committee, state committeeman J. J. Cunningham and County democratic chairman Edward Connel to furnish the inspiration, the democrats of Rock county will hold their first gathering for 1912 at the City Hall Thursday afternoon, starting at one thirty. It is more than probable that an effort will be made to have Rock county announce its support of Wilson as the presidential nominee and this matter will cause considerable discussion.

Will Make Report ON TRUANCY CASES

County Superintendent Seeks to Secure Enforcement of Law Regarding School Attendance.

County Superintendent Antislake is preparing a report of the truancy cases at the various schools in the county, and a list of the names of students who are negligent, the names of their parents or guardians, address and the teacher to whom school they should go, will be given to the sheriff who will take steps to secure regular attendance on the part of the pupils named.

There are quite a number of cases in the county and in several instances it is possible that action will be taken by the District Attorney. Some of the pupils named are old offenders and will be dealt with severely. Others will be given time in which to live up to the terms of the law.

The teachers in the various schools of the county are also sending in attendance reports for each student for the year up to Feb. 1. From them it may be seen just who are regular and who are not in school attendance.

Warranty Deed: Jane McComb of this city has sold property in the town of Union to Clarence M. Roberts for the consideration of $5,000, according to the terms of a deed filed in the office of the registrar of deeds today.

State Money Received: The County Treasurer Charles H. Roberts, last of the state tax receipts from the taxpayers of the various townships and cities today. He will make the returns to the state treasurer on Monday next.

JACK JOHNSON WILL REFEREE BIG BOUTS HERE ON FEBRUARY 26

Harry Forbes vs. Jimmy Walsh, Kid De Munn vs. Spike Kelley, and Catling Hertz vs. Kid McDuff.

What will be the biggest boxing match which has been held in Jamesville, has been arranged by the Jamesville Athletic club and will include an eight-round fight between Kid De Munn and "Spike" Kelley, refereed by Champion Jack Johnson. Harry Forbes and Jimmy Walsh, the English bantam-weight, have also agreed to engage in a mill of ten rounds at 122 pounds. The referee of the opening bouts will be Walter Eckersall, Jack Johnson taking the main bout. As a certain raker for the program battling Hertz of Chicago has agreed to fight six rounds with Kid McDuff of Jamesville, catch-weight.

This is the first time in the history of Jamesville that a good boxing match has been secured for a local audience and the fight fans in the city are exceedingly joyful in the prospect of such a treat. All of the men are well known throughout the middle west and have made names for themselves in boxing circles by their skill.

The main bout of the evening will probably be the eight-round match between De Munn and Kelly, both of whom are among the best in the profession. They will enter the ring at 145 pounds, according to the agreement, and promise to give the spectators a fight which will be worth coming a long way to see.

Harry Forbes, who will fight eight rounds with Jimmy Walsh, the English bantam-weight, at 122 pounds, defeated Joe Homeland of St. Louis in an eight-round bout last June, and shortly after he defeated Sammy Keller at Cleveland. Both of these men have excellent reputations and a good fight is expected when they come together. Altogether the program arranged by the Athletic club is the best which has ever been pulled off in Jamesville and the seating capacity of the rink will probably be given to the limit.

TWO MORE ENTITLED TO PLACE ON BALLOT

Signed Petitions and Candidates' Affidavits Filed by August Lutz and Dr. J. Perschbacher Today.

August Lutz and Dr. J. Perschbacher filed petitions and candidates' affidavits with the city clerk today, having secured the requisite number of signatures to their nomination papers. Both are candidates for the office of city commissioner. No requests for papers were made to the clerk today but it is thought that a number of citizens not yet heard from will enter the race. Discussion over the timber offered thus far is becoming spirited and slates of possible winners are already being formed. The first ward seems assured of a place or two on the election ballot as it has several candidates in the field.

During the first two games the Naps succeeded in winning by a large majority in the first and second games. LIGHT HARNESS RACING RULES TO BE DISCUSSED.

Members of National Trotting Association Met in New York Today—May Repeal Hoppie Rule.

New York, Feb. 14.—The members of the National Trotting Association met together at the Murray Hill Hotel today and began their blunderbuss talk, at which the laws governing the light-harness racing in this country are laid down. The principal matter up for consideration this year is the proposed plan of equalizing records made on mile tracks and those made on half mile tracks. Under existing conditions the mile tracks are rapidly disappearing, and unless relief is forthcoming it is feared that they will soon give place to two-lap rings everywhere east of the Mississippi Valley. Some talk is heard of a move to repeal the rule banishing hoppers, but the general opinion seems to be that no such attempt will be made at the present meeting of the association and that if it is made it will not be successful.

INTERMEDIATES PLAY FAST BROOKLYN TEAM

Brooklyn Aggregation Here Tonight. Seniors Leave for Two Hard Games Friday.

Tonight is the date set for the game between the Y. M. C. A. Intermediates and Brooklyn, which will be held at the Association building. So far this season the youngsters have not been defeated and are planning to keep their record good for some time yet. An exciting game is probably on the boards for tonight however when they meet the visiting team and the Janesville lads expect to have their hands full.

On Friday night, the First Senior team will play Monroe at that place and from there they will go to Albany to pull off another game. Both of these cities have good teams and although they are not as good as the Janesville bunch they will be very liable to put up a good stiff game against the Hoover City boys when they clash. Physical Director Hartwell has not yet definitely arranged for any other games for the seniors but they will have at least two or three more contests on their program.

BELOIT COLLEGE TO PLAY HERE FRIDAY

Game With College Stars Has at Last Been Secured and They Will Come Friday Night to Play Cardinals.

On next Friday night the basket ball fans of the city will be given a treat when Beloit College plays the Lakota Cardinals at the rink. This team has been making good this year and has worked into an excellent reputation. Manager Langdon has made the final arrangements for this game, which he has been trying to secure all season, and at the same time learned that the College team was going to defeat the Cardinals. This remains to be seen however, and a large crowd will probably witness the outcome and see whether an aggregation from the Line City can make good in Janesville.

Word was also received the other day that the New York Nationals would like to have a game here on the twenty-third of February. Since leaving here they have not lost a game although they have played some of the best teams in Minnesota and Wisconsin. Despite this fact the Cardinals do not intend to let them take another game away from here even by an eight point score and if they do come a fairly interesting game is expected.

BASEBALL NOTES

Boulevard, Texas, has taken over the Galveston franchise in the Texas league circuit.

"Smiling Al" Orth, the former Highlander, has signed to coach the Washington and Lee university baseball squad.

President Al Tarnsey, of the Three-I league and family are planning to make the spring trip with the White Sox.

"Peaches" Graham, of the Cubs, loves cold weather, he loves to read about it while spending the winter in Florida.

Bob Vaughan and Freddy Parent, two old Boston players, will once more play on the same team, both being loaned to Baltimore.

Julius Fauriol, the Canadian Slugger has changed his Sox, having been released by the Boston Red Sox to the Chicago White Sox.

John J. Halpin, Chicago's new chief of Detectives, was formerly a baseball player and captained the Calumet (Mich.) championship team of 1901.

With Jim McGuire, Bobby Lowe and Joe Sugden doing scout duty with the Detroit Tigers will no doubt grab their share of promising youngsters next season.

Everett J. P. (thunder of thunder) has signed with the Pittsburgh Pirates. He played with the Petersburg Virginia league team last season and did considerable heavy sweating.

Catcher John Henry refuses to null his contract for superstitious reasons, but will deliver the document in person when he joins the Washington team. John always was a sharp critic.

Here's a fine kettle of tripe. After signing up thirty-six players, Darby O'Brien, of Duluth, finds out that Duluth is not a member of any baseball organization, having recently quit the Minnesota-Wisconsin league.

Tom of the sixteen major league managers have seen service with either the Chicago or New York National league clubs. Chance, Griffith, Kling, Callahan and Wolverton represent Chicago, and McGraw, Brannan, Davis and O'Day New York, with Bill Dahlen a former member of both teams.

It is only a question of time when a big league player released by the majors will either have to go back to the hurrow or open a bank. The South Atlantic league will not allow any ex-big leaguers in their organization, and now the New York State league threatens to limit each club to use but six players who have performed in big society.

WITH THE BOXERS

Matty Baldwin has recovered from his injury and is training for his bout with "K. O." Brown at New York, Feb. 22.

Bombardier Wells, champion of England, is coming to America, looking for a man with one Jack Johnson, of Chicago.

Kid McCoy's mother, who is conducting a revival meeting at Indianapolis, has written to him, urging him to give up boxing and become an evangelist.

Success.

The men who have achieved success are the men who have worked, read, thought more than was absolutely necessary, who have not been content with knowledge sufficient for the present need, but who have sought additional knowledge and stored it away for the emergency reserve. It is the superfluous labor that equips a man for everything that counts most in life.—The Late Senator Cushman K. Davis.

Like a Boy's Pocket.

On killing a Plymouth Rock fowl at Charlton, in Kent county, Eng., Mr. Charles Downs found the following extraordinary collection in its crop. About 20 pieces of glass, one cartridge, six nails, one tin tack, a 1 1/2 inch screw, a 1 1/2 inch copper rivet, one bone collar stud, one shirt button, six trouser buttons, one brass stud, five pieces of coal, one clock screw and one boot button.

Life.

Life is a cocktail, made up for the most part of sweet things, and tinged with a dash of bitterness. We must drain it to the dregs to get at the cherry, just as we must live a full and rounded life to know all its pleasures.—Detroit Free Press.

FACTS ARE STRONGER THAN THEORY

REMARKABLE RESULTS OBTAINED AT UNITED DOCTORS' INSTITUTE.

GRATEFUL PARENTS WRITE A LETTER.

The following letter was written to the United Doctors, who have their Janesville Institute in the Hayes Bldg., Corner of Milwaukee and Main Sts., Racine, Wis.

Dear Doctors: Our little son, Eddie, who is now ten years old has always been for some reason, that none of the many doctors we have consulted could explain or remedy—a backward child in his development. His appetite was poor, his color pale and anemic, he was listless and altogether unlike other children of his age.

What he is a good boy and always willing to go to school and to learn, he somehow didn't seem to be able to make any headway either in his studies or physically. His condition puzzled his teachers as much as it did his parents.

Naturally in our anxiety about our boy, we frequently consulted doctors about him, and they gave us medicine, but the boy's condition didn't improve and remained the same. When we heard about you and the wonderful work you were doing in the great many almost hopeless cases, although we were discouraged and skeptical we decided as a last resort to take the child and have you see him. That was six weeks ago.

We now wish to state to you as well as to the public that the change that has come over our dear boy is truly remarkable.

For the first time in his life he has been able to bring home with him a fine report from school. His teachers are greatly pleased at the improvement in his studies and are wondering at the change. Our neighbors too are not only the changed condition in Eddie's physical appearance. He has good color, his appetite is good, and he is playful. He is a different boy.

Now doctor, we want to assure you of our deep gratitude for the good you have done our little son. It is this that prompts us to write this letter to you with the request that you give it as much publicity as possible.

Yours gratefully,
MR. NICHOLAS BRUER,
MRS. ANNIE E. BRUER.

The Jew in History.

Long before Socrates taught philosophy, or before Herodotus wrote history, Israel had an organized civilization. It has literature before most nations had letters, and art while other nations knew only war and savagery. Draper says that "they (the Jews) were our factors and bankers before we knew how to read."

LION VERSUS EAGLE.

It appears to be quite the proper thing over in Europe to talk war when there is no other really interesting subject to discuss. Of course this does not refer to the Five O'clock tea tables of England or the Kaffeeklatsch of Germany, but to the statesmen who want to win public favor. Lord Churchill has just returned from a round of speaking through the United Kingdom in which he has told the loyal subjects of King George how well prepared England is for war on the sea. While he was doing this his fellow worker, Lord Haldane, visited Germany. It is said, with overtures of peace, to be most binding and lasting. It has always happened of late years that when England was most busy at home with domestic matters of importance, Germany has taken advantage of the opportunity to make some sort of a disturbance which seriously annoyed their English countrymen and caused their diplomats no end of trouble in straightening out. Now Germany is having its own troubles at home, the socialist victory being of such importance that its statements are much worried and here comes England with overtures of peace and Lord Churchill's walking around the country with a chip on his shoulder. Evidently Germany can have either that which it wants and the English do not care a whoop-which.

The Christian Science Monitor views the situation with alarm. It does not believe that despite the statements that all is well between the two nations, that this is the real condition.

"The war in the Crimea was brought about simply because the government of the czar was deceived in believing that in no case would Lord Aberdeen's military light. They forgot Lord Palmerston and the doctrine of 'Cicero Romanus sum,' and war ensued. There cannot be much doubt that something seriously like this occurred during the past summer. There was a moment when the Panther was sent to Agadir, because the Wilhelmstrasse had forgotten Mr. Lloyd George and the Grimshy fleet. It took the Mansion House speech to remind them of the fact. But the Mansion House speech was an eleven hour form of diplomacy, the effects of which are likely to make themselves felt for many a diplomatic day.

"Yet the phenomenon of ill feeling between the United Kingdom and Germany, though it is very much more serious and very much more dangerous than an abolition confined to Downing street and the Wilhelmstrasse, is none the less, nothing more or less than an exhibition of the measureless tendency through which the means of a crowd act upon the mass. The navy leagues of the respective capitals have hypnotized two ordinarily peaceful people into a desire for dreadnoughts; the tariff-weavers have filled them with a dream of commercial extinction; the empire-promoters point to every unappropriated hand of earth as the last in the world's land market, with the result that statesmanship is dissolved in panic.

THREE YEARS OF TAFT.

The following is the best synopsis of the three years of President Taft's administration and what has been accomplished that has come to the editorial desk of the Gazette. It is reprinted below in full so that the reader may read and realize what Taft has accomplished during his term of office and why the Gazette believes he should be re-nominated and re-elected.

Arbitration Treaties with Great Britain and France aimed at war have been negotiated and are now before the Senate. Similar negotiations with other Powers are pending.

Great trusts have been made to feel that the statutes carry penalties for them as well as for the small trusts, and for the individual violator of the law. An era of calm enforcement of existing law has been inaugurated.

and declared, in diplomatic form, that the treaty would be abrogated upon the notice of one year, which it required.

Scientific tariff revision has been put in place of political riving and taking in such legislation. A Tariff Board has been created and its investigations have brought a recommendation from the President for a revision and reduction of the woolen schedule. Other schedules are under scrutiny preparatory to further recommendations. If they be found to conflict with Republican platform principle, and his policy looking to future revision on a scientific schedule by schedule revision, has become effective. The tariff bill, regarded by President Taft as a step in the right direction, even though not a perfect measure, has turned a $28,000,000 deficit into a $30,000,000 surplus. Wool, cotton and so-called farmer's free list bills, originating in a Democratic House, have been vetoed because they violated the principle of the Republican platform, that revision of the tariff should be based upon the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad—a difference upon which information at that time was lacking.

The Panama Canal has been brought to a stage approaching completion, and the date of opening advanced by several months through systematic work.

The Arizona statehood bill was vetoed because it provided for the recall of judges. New Mexico has now been admitted as a State and Arizona will soon follow.

The Post Office Department has been placed upon a self-sustaining basis.

A difficult situation resulting from the revolution in Mexico, arousing deep feeling in the southern portions of the United States, was handled with diplomacy and tact; and the United States aided in the establishment of law and order in the neighboring republic through preserving it in our own.

The Treasury agents and Customs employees have been re-organized, fraud has been weeded out of the customs service, and many thousands of dollars lost under fraudulent importations have been recovered.

A Bureau of Mines has been created. Steps have been taken toward a new employment act and the adoption of additional safety appliances on railroads.

A new policy as to River and Harbor Appropriations has been begun, the old "park barrel" appropriation system abandoned, and the business policy of continuing contracts adopted.

Reciprocity with Canada was offered, brought to a successful conclusion in the United States, and failed because Canada evidently thought the agreement gave us the advantage.

A treaty with Japan has been negotiated, bringing about genuine friendship between her and the United States.

New treaties with Honduras and Nicaragua, that will make for permanent peace in those countries, have been negotiated and await action by the Senate.

Postal banks have been established. Rigid economy has been instituted in the government departments. A Court of Customs Appeals has been created.

A Stock and Bond commission has been appointed and has made a valuable and exhaustive report.

Parole post has been recommended.

Judicial appointments have been taken out of politics.

The 13th census was made non-political.

President Taft has declared for the extension of the civil service, accomplishing much in this direction by executive order.

The passage of a corporation tax law, yielding thirty millions annually, has been obtained with the resultant surveillance of corporate activities.

The question of an income tax amendment to the Constitution has been submitted to the States.

The President has provided for the accomplishment of conservation policies, and obtained a bond issue for irrigation projects; obtained legislation further extending the power of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and creating a Court of Commerce to review the Commission's findings; championed the matter of civil pensions for superannuated clerks; recommended a Federal incorporation act; and induced China to open to American Indians on equal terms with the rest of the world.

Peace in Cuba has been maintained by a word of friendly warning.

The railroads of the country were prevented, by an appeal to the writ of injunction, from putting rate increases into effect.

A SPUR OF THE MOMENT

ADAM
Take off your hat to Adam for he was a lucky man. He never had to eat stale fruit out of an old tin can. He simply had to sit down still. The fruit fell from the trees.

When, o'er the garden, was bestrid by any vagrant breeze.
Old Adam never had to dodge the sixty-horse power car. There was no bill collector there, his joy in life to mar. He never had to listen to a lot of argument. About the men who wanted to become the president.

He had no fear of microbes for they clumped not on his trail. The law never worried him a bit because there was no jail. He owed no tailor's bill because he didn't dress in style. The cost of living was a joke at which he well could smile.

He worried not about the trusts nor yet the power of wealth. There never was a single thing the matter with his health. He had no furnace fire to stoke and no hard coal to buy. The climate in the garden was as balmy as July.

There was no squawking phonographs to interrupt his sleep. There was no barbarian quartet to sing, "Down in the Deep." No canvassers for books dropped to occupy his time—Old Adam must have led a life that simply was sublime.

CAUGHT ON THE FLY

J. P. Morgan is to take a trip up the Nile. If he likes the Nile he may buy it and put it in Central park.

A Connecticut scientist claims that men can live for years as if dead. He, most Connecticut me do.

A trade report says shoes are going up. Yes, indeed, it is very slippery these days.

The suffrage situation in England is said to be growing serious. Yes, indeed, the suffragettes are getting so they can throw straight.

But what if they do wipe out gamblers in Cebu? People can go over to St. Joe, Mich., and get married.

It is evidently going to take more than a bicycle pump to keep Champ Clark's boom inflated.

Miss Thebes says Paris will be entirely destroyed in 1912. It will make but little difference here, because most of the genuine Paris hats are made in this country, anyhow.

Miss Quinby claims to be the first American aviatress. Maybe, but she is not the first American woman who has been flayed.

Mr. Rockefeller says he isn't worried about the outcome. No, indeed, it has always been the outcome that worried him.

A taxicab company in New York has gone into bankruptcy, thereby following the train of most of its patrons.

SOME LEAP YEAR HINTS.

One good way to land him is to have your life insured for $10,000 and make him the beneficiary.

Buy one of those $40,000 bungalows and a sixty H. P. Panhard and let him know that you own them. Take him out riding in your car once in a while.

Take him to the theater often and always provide a nice chummy little supper afterwards. If you continue these little attentions long he is almost sure to accept you.

Don't forget the bouquet of violets when you send him the invitation to the theater. You can get one for a dollar enough for his buttonhole for a life.

If there is any money in your family—if you have a rich uncle who has a hard earned or a rich old aunt who has earned food and is liable to suffer from ptomaine poisoning at any moment—don't hesitate to tell him about it. Mention it quite frequently.

My Lady and The Tariff:

Few women pretend to any understanding of the tariff, and many a man, indeed, knows little about it. But the tariff is the perennial question in the politics of the United States.

All women know that some very fine things that are dear to the feminine heart come from far across wide oceans, but few, perhaps, know what the tariff adds to those things on which there is an import tax.

Henry Clay, Daniel Webster, Horace Greeley, William McKinley and the greatest thinkers and political leaders of the past 75 years of American statesmanship have given their best to the tariff problem. It is as much a problem today as ever.

Meanwhile women who want the finer things that the world affords must be supplied. If they are of domestic manufacture, if they come out of the Orient, if Europe makes them, if they can come in free or if the government levies a tribute, The Big Store procures them just the same.

Janesville has become distinctive; has a discriminating trade that demands that which is distinctive and pre-eminent the best. Wherever such things are The Big Store gets them, be they made in Janesville, China, or Japan, or in any of the industrial countries of Europe.

FOURTEEN CARS ARE WRECKED ON ST. PAUL EARLY THIS MORNING

Train No. 173 Going South Thrown Into Ditch and Cars Demolished When Wheel Broke.

While running at a good speed toward Beloit this morning, fourteen cars of the C. M. & St. P. freight train No. 173 were derailed and piled up about 6:50 o'clock. The whole center section of the train was thrown from the track and distributed over the right of way in terrible disorder. By the greatest luck there happened to be none of the trainmen on the cars which were wrecked and no one was hurt despite the destruction of the greater part of the train. The contents of the cars were strewn over the country side and mixed with the wreckage. Many of the cars were totally demolished nothing being left of them as they were crushed between cars before and behind them.

This train left Janesville on its way south at 6:15 in the morning and was about three miles south of the city getting up speed when one of the wheels broke derailing the following cars and piling up the train. Conductor Holton was in charge of the train which was run by Robert Brown and Edward Griffith. Word was immediately sent in from a farm house near by and the wrecker was started for the scene of the accident, but though it was busy at work since early this morning the way had not been opened for traffic at a late hour this afternoon.

All trains to Beloit this morning on the St. Paul were forced to go around by way of Hartwell and were delayed considerably. This is the fourth wreck which has taken place here within a short time, two on each road. A train coming from the south was derailed only a few miles south of the place a few weeks ago on the same road.

HEAR FINE ADDRESS AT LINCOLN BANQUET

Rev. T. D. Williams of Janesville Spoke on Subject of "Patriotism" at Evansville Meeting.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, Feb. 14.—The second Lincoln banquet was held in the Methodist church parlors last evening. The room was very artistically decorated in the national colors, and the tables were adorned with many old fashioned and mement looking candlesticks, bouquets of flowers, and a most delicious four course banquet was served to one hundred and seven guests.

Following the beautiful repast, a most excellent program was given, consisting of music, readings and speeches. Rev. T. D. Williams of Janesville gave a very fine talk on "Patriotism," and we all hope this will not be our last chance of hearing Mr. Williams. All present will agree that the Lincoln banquet of 1912, was certainly a great success.

The floral offerings were many, and most beautiful. Interment was made at Maple Hill.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

CHOOSE THE HARD JOB.

Choose to do the hard things. If you want a practical monopoly in your line choose to do the difficult things. Most persons look for the easy things. That reduces the number of your competitors.

Grapple the difficult task. Because you cannot win a big victory without putting up a big fight. Gold is hard to get. You must dig for it.

Do not skip the hard job. Because by doing the hard job you equip yourself for the doing of it. You develop capacity for it. And when by persistent effort and a brave struggle you have made good you have not only accomplished the big work; but, what is more important—

You have rounded yourself. You have changed yourself from what may have been a small man into a big man.

Do you not see? The work calls out the capacities you did not know you had and develops new faculties. Big tasks not only take big men, but make big men. Responsibility makes men grow. No one knows what he can do until he tries. If you formed the habit in childhood or at school of shirking the duties that are onerous reform yourself.

Choose a man's job and—Master it. There's half a world full of people who dream of prosperity, but who seldom or never dream of mowing and tilling and sowing—the only honest way to get ahead. They dream of some kind friend who will die and endow them.

And—Many there are who see the vision of noble living who lack the sustaining power and the stringent self denial necessary to live that life.

Essay the hard task, because, as Whittier puts it—Better to stem with heart and hand The roaring tide of life than to Unmindful, on its dawning strand, Of God's occasions drifting by.

Better with naked nerve to bear The needles of this goading air Than in the lap of sensuous ease forego The godlike power to do, the godlike aim to know.

Chicago's Oldest Citizen.
Chicago, Ill., Feb. 14.—Mrs. Ellen Hamilton Keenon, who succeeded to the title of Chicago's oldest settler upon the death of Fernando Jones some months ago, celebrated her eightieth birthday anniversary today. Mrs. Keenon was born inside old Fort Dearborn and has resided in Chicago all her life except for short periods when she was with her husband.

Courage a Moral Trait.
When the crucial moment arrives the steel of courage is as likely to be found in the quivering nerves of frail women as in the stouter makeup of men. Courage is a moral trait that enables the soul to possess itself under every vicissitude. In the common spheres of civil and prosaic life may be found instances of truest heroism.

Belgium's Elongated Orchards.
The Belgians border their roadsides with apple and pear trees of the elder and perry varieties, and they draw a profitable revenue from their elongated plantations. Thus the 800,000 roadside trees of Belgium bring in an annual income of $12,000—that is, a little over four pence per tree, big and little; while they cost, including contributions to a replanting sinking fund, a trifle over three-fourths pence per tree.—From the Car.

Decayed by the Name.
Little Helen, rummaging among the bookshelves, found a volume which charmed her by its title and, scarcely noticed by mamma, spent the whole afternoon apparently absorbed in reading. "Well," she said at last, as she returned the volume to its place, "I have read every line in the book from the first to the last and I haven't found anything in it about 'A Doll House.'"

Original Meaning of "Supper."
To "sup," or take "supper," is now to eat the last meal of the day; but the original meaning of the term was to drink, a meaning still retained by the closely allied word "sip." From the same root we get the words "sop" and "soup."

Left Blooming Alone.
"If you only know what to expect," sighed the hostess; "but you don't and can't. Last month I went out and bought flowers for my party. Then my friends all sent me flowers—roses, carnations, some orchids. This month I didn't buy myself flowers, expecting the same, and, my goodness! There wasn't a single blooming flower in the flat. Not a one of them sent even a bud."

The Hygienic Side of the Newspaper Breakfast

SOME wives feel aggrieved that their husbands bury themselves in the newspaper at the breakfast table, and that all they hear in response to conversational attempts is "M-m-m-m-m-m," and such edifying replies.

There may or may not be reason to feel aggrieved. But to say that every man who does this is selfish and inconsiderate would hardly be just, without hearing the man's side of the case.

We all do want to know the morning news. Most of us have as keen an appetite for it as for the breakfast itself. If some men do not read the paper at the breakfast table, they have no other time to read it. And when this is the case, the wife certainly should cheerfully grant him the privilege. But when a man can read it on his way to business, it does seem thoughtless of him to give no consideration to his wife all during the morning meal. But whatever may be his excuse, if he has the newspaper habit at the breakfast table, it would be better for the wife to provide herself also with a paper or a book, or a pad and pencil and plan out the day's menu, than to nag and scold and feel aggrieved. If it is a condition that must be faced, it is better to face it cheerfully than grudgingly.

But there is a side to the newspaper breakfast that perhaps neither the husband nor the wife has thought of, and which is well worth considering, and which when once considered, may remove this cloud from the domestic horizon.

It is becoming well understood that the state of mind in which we eat has much to do with the digestion of our food. If we eat when we are worried or hurried or despondent, our food does not digest. It is not assimilated, and the body does not get the nourishment it needs. Now the man who eats his breakfast to a mental accompaniment of murders, suicides, fires, burglaries, and accidents, is certainly not mixing his breakfast with cheerfulness and optimism. The ghastly details of some horrible crime are not good aids to digestion, nor is the news of a bank failure or a panic on Wall Street apt to bring peace and tranquillity to his spirit. Rather it gives an inward feeling of panic and apprehension, as he wonders if it will be likely to affect his affairs, that paralyzes digestion. Bad news is apt to cause him to push away the remainder of his breakfast untasted, and to start off in a depressed, fearful state of mind. This is not going to put him in the best condition to handle the complications that may await him.

The wife, too, if she sits at the opposite end of the table in gloomy or melancholy silence, because evidently her husband does not love her any more, is not eating her food in that state of mind that makes for good digestion.

Bright cheerful talk, a discussion of plans or pleasure for the day or week is surely a better way to pass the breakfast hour, better if only from the hygienic point of view.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

A FOREIGN prima donna and professional beauty has burst into print with an injunction to American women to spend more time at their toilet tables, in order to bring their husbands to the proper state of subjection.

Madame announces that our men do not love us as the French love their women. A Frenchman, she says, will ruin himself to buy ornaments for the object of his affection, whereas an American man almost never comports himself in this admirable way.

And this unfortunate state of affairs, she explains to us, is due to the fact that American women do not spend enough time in making themselves beautiful. She herself spends several hours daily at her toilet table, and any normal French woman is willing to employ ten hours in making herself beautiful if she may fascinate for one hour.

Stuff and nonsense.

Yes, Madame, that's not very refined, I know, but it seems to be the only way I can fitly characterize your advice.

I think the women of America have been hearing altogether too much of this sort of thing lately. There are, to be sure, some of us who think too little of the duty of looking as well as we can. But there are just as many who think of little else.

I don't know much about Frenchmen, but I do know that the middle class, backbone-of-the-nation, average American man does care about something besides physical beauty in a wife.

Madame, the prima donna, thinks the only way to keep your husband in love with you is to spend half the day at the toilet table, fighting away old age, and stimulating youth and beauty after they have departed. And what may be to happen to the babies, the kitchen fire, the supper, and a few other little incidents about the house that occasionally require attention, while mother is chained to the toilet table, penciling her eyebrows and massaging a threatening double chin?

If an American woman wants to keep her husband's love, I don't think she needs to go through with any such farcical performance as this.

Let her take a reasonable interest in her personal appearance, studying becoming colors, adopting, or if necessary, adapting becoming styles, and putting on her clothes neatly and carefully.

Let her give a reasonable amount of time to the care of her person, keeping always perfectly sweet and clean, and doing everything in her power to keep healthy.

Let her keep all fretful and complaining notes out of her voice. If I were a husband, nothing would drive me from my home more quickly than a wife with a fretful voice.

Let her keep her mind from stagnating and her horizon from narrowing by reading and talking about the world's progress, and the things that count. We read that men fell in love with Madame de Staël after she was seventy. Why? Because she never let her mind or spirit stagnate.

Let the American women take an interest in her husband's work. Let her try to be fair minded, kind, and considerate—in fact, obey the Golden Rule—in her household relations, and be a livable friend, as well as a lovable wife.

Let her remember the enthusiastic, fine souled girl her husband fell in love with and idealized, and never let that girl wholly die within her.

Let any American woman do all or half these things, and even if she has no toilet table in her home, I think that in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred, she will be able to keep her husband's love "Till death do us part."

To be sure, I don't mean that it will be the kind of love that will make him ruin himself to buy her ornaments.

Merely the inferior American quality of love that makes a man glad to tell to make his woman a pleasant home, and eager to come back to that home when the toil is done.

UP-TO-DATE HOUSEKEEPING.

Note the Left Overs in Pantry and Refrigerator Before Marketing.

By Alice E. Whitaker.

"What do you do with the pieces?" asked a new maid the second day of her service. To which I replied that it is wisdom not to have many but all should be saved and used in the best manner possible. The woman who does her own cooking knows what there is on hand but many who employ a cook have little idea where the odds and ends go.

It is a good custom to go through the refrigerator and pantry every morning and note what is on hand, then plan ways to use it in the day's menu, before ordering from the market. It is more often I believe the woman with a bank account who practices this systematic economy than one who ought not to waste a penny but through shrewdness or fear of being dubbed stingy allows the kitchen waste to go unnoticed.

Some day when the table allows, it is a little short try a savory imitation roast which will cost you about twenty cents for all the materials. Use one pound of hamburger steak, one onion, three medium sized slices of bread, one egg, one level teaspoon of salt and a few dashes of pepper.

Soak the bread in cold water and press dry, add to the steak with the onion minced fine, the egg beaten light and the seasonings. Mix thoroughly and shape in a thick roll; put in a butter pan and bake in a moderate oven. Slice occasionally and serve with a tomato sauce.

Grind the scraps left from a boiled ham very fine, using one-quarter as much fat as lean. Rub to a paste and to two cups add a teaspoon of made mustard and a few grains of cayenne or more if paprika is used. Pack in the little earthen jars that marmalade comes in, or in baking cups, and set in a pan filled with hot water after laying a paper over each jar. Bake an hour in a slow oven, then pour melted butter or paraffine over and tie or paste on paper covers.

If the cook is skilled in making croquettes she can also use scraps of cold meat in this way: Chop or grind the meat fine and to one cup of meat add one cup of hot mashed potatoes, one tablespoon of butter, a speck of cayenne and salt as needed, then add one beaten egg. Beat one egg with one tablespoon of cold water; shape the mixture into croquettes, roll in the egg then in crumbs and fry in smoking hot fat. The croquettes will cook quickly because the mixture is already cooked.

When cold roast or boiled meat of any kind is left over either cut it in thin shavings, grind or chop fine. Season with salt and pepper, onion juice or a little tomato catsup. Add a little gravy to moisten if any was left. Have a baking dish buttered and lined with hot mashed potatoes seasoned with salt and a little pepper hot milk and butter.

Fill the center with the meat, cover with potato and brush over with beaten egg. Heat and brown in the oven and serve in the same dish garnished with parsley or celery leaves.

The best doughnuts are made by the very few cooks who understand the use of sour milk. The city housewife rarely has a drop of sour milk to use and the farmers wife is apt to get into the habit of using the convenient baking powder for every thing. Doughnuts vary all the way from unsweetened bread dough fried in deep fat to the cruller which is little less than cake.

The KITCHEN CABINET

It is never hard to do the right thing; it is in deciding to do it that the tug comes.

Let us try to make it a little easier for the child to do right and a little harder for it to do wrong.

DAINTY THINGS FOR THE TABLE.

A perfectly delicious and most attractive dessert is:

Fruit Spang Drops With Cream.—Beat thoroughly a cup of sugar and three eggs, add a third of a cup of water and a cup of flour sifted with two teaspoonsful of baking powder.

Add salt and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Bake in patty pans and when cool scoop out the center carefully and fill the cavities with peaches, pears or any desired fruit. Place a spoonful of whipped cream on each, garnish with a piece of fruit used for the filling, and serve. Or they may be rolled in boiled frosting and sprinkled with cocoanut.

Cottage Cheese Salad.—Mix two cups of cottage cheese with half a cup of walnut meats, a teaspoonful of chopped chives or onion. Season highly with salt and paprika, and arrange in balls, three in a nest of lettuce. Pour around them mayonnaise to which has been added some chopped olives or capers.

Mock Clam Soup.—Wash free from salt a half pound of salt codfish, cover with a quart of cold water, and bring to the boiling point and simmer for one-half hour. Remove the fish, which may be saved for balls and strain the water, add a thickening of a tablespoonful of butter which has been cooked with a tablespoonful of flour.

Add a pint of milk and bring to the boiling point. Into the soup dish place a piece of buttered toast, pour in the soup and garnish with finely-cut parsley.

Graham Bread.—Mix two cups of scalded milk, one-third of a cup of molasses, two teaspoonfuls of salt, and when lukewarm a fourth of a yeast cake dissolved in warm water, and two cups of flour, four cups of graham. Beat well, let rise until double its bulk, beat again, place in buttered pans and when well risen, bake in a moderate oven.

Prune Pudding.—Make a small mold of lemon jelly. Cook until tender a cup of large prunes, place in a glass dish and pour over the lemon jelly. Let away to harden. Serve with whipped cream.

A Queen's Critical Brother.

Mario Antonetto's brother Joseph could not bear the rouge pot, and one evening when the queen was going out, being heavily rouged, the emperor was looking on. Pointing to a lady present who was excessively bedaubed with paint, Joseph remarked facetiously: "A little more under the eyes! Lay on the rouge like fury, as that lady does!"—From Hansard's Lords XVI.

TENDENCY TO LUNG TROUBLE.

NO PART of the body responds to an effort to improve like the lung tissue. The redundant size of the lungs, sedentary life, ignorance of breathing, and the liability of diseased tissue to attack, makes tuberculosis a constantly increasing menace to the race. The time to begin fighting it is in early life. Children should be taught to fully inflate, stretch, and "wash out" their lungs. It is a much more important factor in inherent cleanliness and bodily vitality than requiring them to wash their faces and comb their hair.

Outdoor life and wholesome diet are now generally recognized as remedial agents for lung consumption. But much more emphasis should be laid on the habit of breathing, as a part of the cure. If the patient refuses to eat there is great alarm, but it is taken for granted that if surrounded by good air he will get all that is necessary. If the greater portion of effort were directed to teaching patients to breathe and strengthen the lung tissue there would be greater percentage of recovery.

Mrs. Bishop says any one whose life is shadowed by a belief that a narrow chest, weak lungs, tuberculosis, bronchitis or any of their kin "runs in his family" can demonstrate that he is exempt from those family tendencies. The way to rid oneself of such benumbing apprehensions and the possibility of their fulfillment is to keep one's system well nourished by food and well renovated by exercise, and to develop a broad chest and lungs of large capacity and fine resistant power.

"The secret of health is in the power of the cells of our bodies to reject germs whenever our bodies are weak; then is the time to look out for infection, or the development of tubercular or germs," says Hahnbridge in Life's Day.

MRS. GRACE GUGGENHEIM WAHL

FORMER WIFE OF RICH SMELTER ASKS DECREE ANNULLED

Chicago, Ill.—If Mrs. Grace Brown Guggenheim Wahl succeeded in having her divorce set aside, her divorce with William Guggenheim, the smaller magnate, as she is making an effort to do before Judge Thomas J. Windes in the Circuit court, she will jeopardize the legitimacy of Guggenheim's only son.

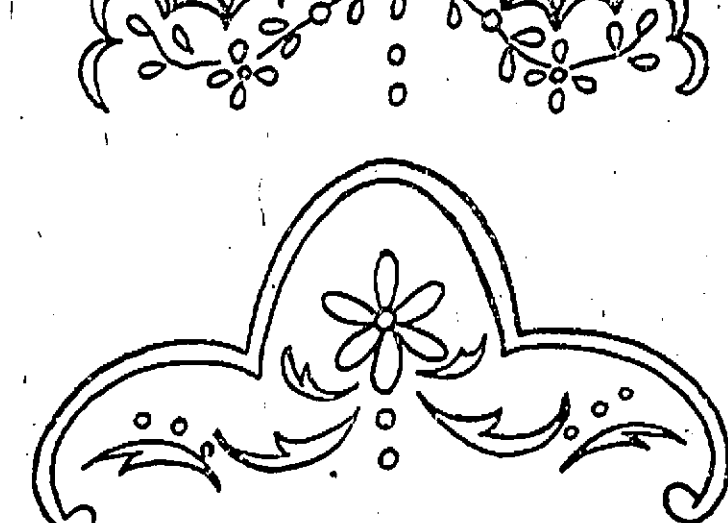

Argument was begun in the Circuit court by Mrs. Wahl's attorneys to have set aside her divorce from Guggenheim, which she secured in Chicago in 1901. She declares she was not a legal resident of the state of Illinois at the time the divorce was secured and that she was "led into it" through fraud and misrepresentation.

Mrs. Wahl, who formerly was Miss Grace Brown, and Guggenheim were married in 1900. One year later Mrs. Guggenheim came to Chicago and Guggenheim Wahl succeeded in having her divorce set aside. She signed papers to the effect that she would ask any alimony and money was granted, but a settlement was made by Guggenheim before she came to Chicago.

Both Parties to Suit Remarried.

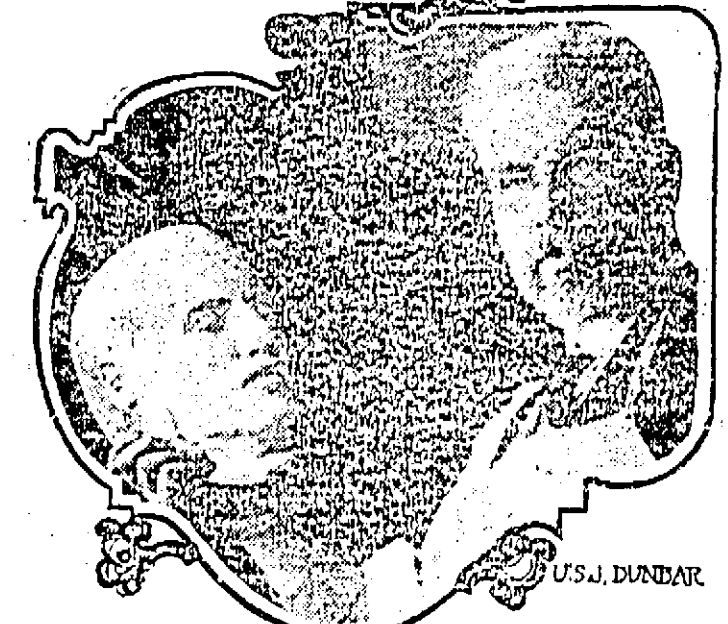

Some time after this both Guggenheim and his divorced wife married again. She married Julius Roger Wahl in Paris and Guggenheim married Alcee Lillian Steinberger. One child was born to Guggenheim as a result of this last marriage and it is the one to be affected by the result of the bill secured and that she was "led into it" through fraud and misrepresentation.

The marriage of the woman to Julius Wahl was declared invalid in 1910 by the Paris courts.

Wake Up With a "Dark Brown Taste?"

Get Rid of It!—Run for OLIVE TABLETS

There isn't the slightest need to wake up any morning with a "brown mouth." Ugh! No need to describe it! Dr. Edwards has made "brown mouth" a thing of the past in thousands of homes with his little Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Anyone who takes Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets the moment he awakes suspects his liver and bowels never has a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a pimply face, constipation or any other form of bowel or liver disorder.

Take one just the moment you suspect you are constipated or that your liver is out of order.

Thousands take one at bedtime every night just to keep the bowels regular, the liver in order, the mouth clean and the breath pure and sweet.

Olive Tablets are made of pure vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

Dr. Edwards spent 17 years in practice and in laboratory experiments before he perfected Olive Tablets.

Why don't you try them instead of the severe kind of laxatives that grip and only effect temporary relief?

"Every little temporary relief is a movement all its own."

Ninety Years in One Service.

Perhaps the world's record for service is held by the occupant of a grave in the churchyard at Battle, Sussex, England. This is Isaac Ingall, who died in 1798 at the age of 120. For ninety years he was in the service of the Websters of Battle Abbey. Sarah Thompson of Belfast served 83 years with one family, dying in 1895.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

By DR. T. J. ALLEN Food Specialist

"EASY KEEPERS."

Stockmen recognize certain breeds of animals as being "easy keepers." An easy keeper eats less food than the average animal because it utilizes better the food that it does consume; there is more complete digestion and assimilation and less waste. The same difference exists in different animals. The ox eats a large amount of food in proportion to its size and growth, the goat a small amount. The same difference exists in human beings. Some eat large rations though they do not gain much in flesh, others eat little but maintain weight. The stockman finds it economical to select easy keepers, and in these times of high cost of living "easy keepers" are quite desirable in the ordinary household. The average person eats far too much and too complex a diet. Thorough mastication and occasional fasting tend to reduce the amount of food required. This is desirable not so much for financial economy as for physiological, for every unit of energy expended in digestion and elimination beyond what is necessary, is waste.

A Quick Way to Clean Windows

With a dry, soft cloth remove the dust from both outside and inside, cleaning the corners and grooves with the point of a stick covered with a cloth. Have ready a pail of warm water made by dissolving a tablespoon of Gold Dust washing powder in warm water. Dip a soft cloth in the water, squeeze almost dry and wipe the glass off. Polish with chamol, as it leaves no lint and does the work with more ease. Do not wash windows when the sun is shining on them. Mirrors should be washed in the same way as windows. Then polish with a soft cloth charged with powdered whiting.

Always Tired, With Little Vitality

Modern Tonic, Tona Vita, Will Surely Build You Up Again.

Are you one of the run-down, half sick nervous people with which the country is filled? Do you feel tired all the time with very little vitality? Do you sleep badly and feel as worn out in the morning as when you went to bed? Is your circulation poor and do you catch cold easily? Have you stomach trouble and an irregular appetite? Are you nervous, moody and depressed?

These are sure symptoms of nervous debility. If you are struggling along in this miserable condition the best thing you can possibly do for yourself is to take "Tona Vita" the wonderful new tonic that has the unqualified endorsement of more physicians than any other medicine ever before offered to the public.

Here is what the Rev. Gustave Frederick, pastor of the Evangelical church, Center Street, Milwaukee, Wis., has to say of it.

"Judging from my own experience I do not hesitate to say that 'Tona Vita' is an extremely valuable preparation. I have not only used it myself, but other members of the family have been taking it with highly satisfactory results."

"So far as my own case is concerned I have been in a run-down condition for a year or so, tiring easily and being troubled with sleeplessness. I lacked vitality and caught cold readily, and my digestion and appetite were poor. I was depressed in mind and body and very nervous. I now feel stronger than for a long time. I have more energy and my work is done with much less effort. I sleep and eat better and feel as though rejuvenated."

"Tona Vita acts quickly. You will be surprised how rapidly it will build you up."

Smith Drug Co., have the agency for Tona Vita in Janesville, and will return the purchase price if not entirely satisfactory. The Approved Formula Co., Dayton, O.

People are sometimes slow to recognize true merit, and they cannot be blamed, for so many have been humbugged in the past. The experience of hundreds of Janesville residents, expressed publicly through newspapers and other sources, places Doan's Kidney Pills on a firm foundation here.

Mrs. H. P. Jones, 419 Western Ave., Janesville, Wis., writes: "My back was so painful that I had to go around all stooped over and sometimes there was weakness through my legs that made it impossible for me to stand. I did not sleep well and it seemed as if a weight were tied to my back. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, I got a box at the People's Drug Co., and began their use. They cured me and at that time I was pleased to make the fact known by means of a public statement. I take pleasure in confirming all I have previously said regarding Doan's Kidney Pills and add that I value them as highly as ever. I know that this remedy can be relied upon to correct symptoms of kidney trouble."

CHAPTER XV.

Christine! Christine!

Raoul's first thought, after Christine Dane's fantastic disappearance, was to accuse Erik. He no longer doubted the almost supernatural powers of the Angel of Music, in this domain of the opera in which he had set up his empire. And Raoul rushed on the stage, in a mad fit of love and despair. "Christine! Christine!" he moaned, calling to her as he felt that she must be calling to him from the depths of that dark pit to which the monster had carried her. "Christine! Christine!"

And he seemed to hear the girl's screams through the frail boards that separated him from her. He bent forward, he listened, . . . he wandered over the stage like a madman. Ah, to descend, to descend into that pit of darkness every entrance to which was closed to him. . . . for the stairs that led below the stage were forbidden to one and all that night!

"Christine! Christine! . . . Why don't you answer? . . . Are you alive?"

His thoughts flashed through Raoul's congested brain. Of course, Erik must have discovered their secret, must have known that Christine had played him false. What a vengeance would be his!

And Raoul thought again of the yellow stars that had come, the night before, and roamed over his balcony. Why had he not put them out for good? There were some men's eyes that dilated in the darkness and shone like stars or like cat's eyes. Certainly Albinos, who seemed to have rabbit's eyes by day, had cat's eyes at night; everybody knew that!

Yes, yes, he had undoubtedly fired at Erik. Why had he not killed him? The monster had fled up the gutter-pipe like a cat or a convict who everybody knew that also would scale the very skies, with the help of a gutter-pipe!

No doubt Erik was at that time contemplating some decisive step against Raoul, but he had been wounded and had escaped to turn against poor Christine instead.

Such were the cruel thoughts that haunted Raoul as he ran to the singer's dressing-room.

He listened. All was silence.

of the opera-house, found himself once more in the light of the stage. He stopped, with his heart thumping in his chest; suppose Christine Dane had been found? He saw a group of men and asked:

"I beg your pardon, gentlemen. Could you tell me where Christine Dane is?"

And somebody laughed. At the same moment the stage buzzed with a new sound and a crowd of men in evening-dress, all talking and gesticulating together, appeared a man who seemed very calm and displayed a pleasant face, all pink and chubby-cheeked, crowned with curly hair and lit up by a pair of wonderfully serene blue eyes. Merle, the acting-manager, called the Vicomte de Chagny's attention to him and said:

"This is the gentleman to whom you should put your question, monsieur."

Let me introduce 'M. Mirford,' the commissary of police.

"Ah, M. le Vicomte de Chagny! Delighted to meet you, monsieur," said the commissary. "Would you mind coming with me? . . . And now where are the managers?"

Merle did not answer, and Ramy, the secretary, volunteered the information that the managers were locked up in their office and that they knew nothing as yet of what had happened. "You don't mean to say so! Let us go up to the office!"

And M. Mirford, followed by an ever-increasing crowd, turned toward the business side of the building. Merle took advantage of the confusion to slip a key into Gabriel's hand:

"This is all going very badly," he whispered. "You had better let Mother Gly cry out."

And Gabriel moved away. They soon came to the managers' door. Merle stormed in vain: the door remained closed.

"Open in the name of the law!" commanded M. Mirford, in a loud and rather anxious voice.

At last the door was opened. All rushed into the office, on the commissary's heels.

Raoul was the last to enter. As he was about to follow the rest into the room, a hand was laid on his shoulder, and he heard these words spoken in his ear:

"Erik's secrets concern no one but himself!"

He turned around, with a stifled exclamation. The hand that was laid on his shoulder was now placed on the lips of a person with an ebony skin, with eyes of jade and with an astrakhan cap on his head; the Persian!

The stranger kept up the gesture that recommended discretion and then, at the moment when the astonished Raoul was about to ask the reason of his mysterious intervention, bowed and disappeared.

CHAPTER XVI.

Mme. Gly's Astonishing Revelations As to Her Personal Relations With the Opera Ghost.

Before following the commissary into the manager's office I must describe certain extraordinary occurrences that took place in that office which Raoul and Merle had vainly tried to enter and into which M. Mirford and Monchamrin had locked themselves with an object which the reader does not yet know, but which it is my duty, as an historian, to reveal without further postponement.

I have had occasion to say that the managers' mood had undergone a disagreeable change for some time past and to convey the fact that this change was due not only to the fall of the chandelier on the famous night of the gala performance.

The reader must know that the ghost had calmly been paid his first twenty thousand francs. Oh, there had been wailing and gnashing of teeth, indeed! And yet the thing had happened as simple as could be.

One morning, the managers found on their table an envelope addressed to "Monsieur O. G. (private)" and accompanied by a note from O. G. himself:

"The time has come to carry out the clause in the memorandum-book. Please put twenty notes of a thousand francs each into this envelope, seal it with your own seal and hand it to Mme. Gly, who will do what is necessary."

The managers did not hesitate; without wasting time in asking how these confounded communications came to be delivered in an office which they were careful to keep locked, they seized this opportunity of laying hands on the mysterious blackmailer. And, after telling the whole story, under the promise of secrecy, to Gabriel and Merle, they put the twenty thousand francs into the envelope and without asking for explanations, handed it to Mme. Gly, who had been reinstated in her functions. The box-keeper displayed no astonishment. I need hardly say that she was well watched. She went straight to the ghost's box and placed the precious envelope on the little shelf attached to the lodge. The two managers, as well as Gabriel and Merle, were hidden in such a way that they did not lose sight of the envelope for a second during the performance and even afterward, for, as the envelope had not moved, those who watched it did not move either; and Mme. Gly went away while the managers, Gabriel and Merle were still there. At last, they became tired of waiting and opened the envelope, after ascertaining that the seals had not been broken.

At first sight, Richard and Monchamrin thought that the notes were still there; but soon they perceived that they were not the same. The twenty real notes were gone and had been replaced by twenty notes of the "Bank of St. Farce!"

The managers' rage and fright were unmistakable. Monchamrin wanted to send for the commissary of police, but Richard objected. He no doubt had a plan, for he said:

"Don't let us make ourselves ridiculous! All Paris would laugh at us. O. G. has won the first game; we will win the second."

He was thinking of the next month's allowance.

Nevertheless, they had been so absolutely tricked that they were bound to suffer a certain dejection. And, upon my word, it was not difficult to understand. We must not forget that the managers had an idea at the back of their minds, all the time, that this strange incident might be an unpleasant practical joke on the part of their predecessors, and that it would not do to divulge it prematurely. On the other hand, Monchamrin was sometimes troubled with a suspicion of Richard himself, who occasionally took fanciful whims into his head. And so they were content to await events, while keeping an eye on Mother Gly. Richard would not have her spoken to.

"If she is a confederate," he said, "the notes are gone long ago. But, in my opinion, she is merely an idiot."

"She's not the only idiot in this business," said Monchamrin pensively. "Well, who could have thought it?"

meaned Richard. "But don't be afraid . . . next time, I shall have taken my precautions."

The next time fell on the same day that beheld the disappearance of Christine Dane. In the morning a note from the ghost reminded them that the money was due. It read:

"Do just as you did last time. It went very well. Put the twenty thousand in the envelope and hand it to our excellent Mme. Gly."

And the note was accompanied by the usual envelope. They had only to insert the notes.

This was done about half an hour before the curtain rose on the first act of Faust. Richard showed the envelope to Monchamrin. Then he counted the twenty thousand-franc notes in front of him and put the notes into the envelope, but without closing it.

"And now," he said, "let's have Mother Gly in."

Truth in Old Saying.

There is an old adage on the hills saying that men who cannot manage their own finances are exactly the ones to look after those of a nation. And because it is too true is the reason why it is an old saying, irrespective as to what Dun or Bradstreet may say to the contrary.

Rheumatism Yields to the Great Kidney Remedy

I have been troubled with rheumatism for the last five years. Suffered with much pain in the limbs, back and feet, and my joints have been badly swollen. Also suffered from constipation. Besides having a regular physician, I had tried every remedy without receiving the least benefit until I accidentally came across a bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. I began taking it, never thinking it would help me but must acknowledge it has done wonders for me. I have taken more than a dozen bottles and feel that it has been a God sent to me. I am recommending it to all my friends.

Yours very truly,

THA ALDRICH.

A Liberal Offer

Beyond His Ken.

A teacher writes that she had a new pupil fill in a reference card last week. One blank asked for "Nationality of Parents." This had to be explained to the child. Then she wrote down: "Papa is Irish and mamma is German. But I don't know what they were before they were married."

First Use of Term "John Bull."

The name "John Bull," as applied to the English nation, was first made use of in a poem dated 1712.

Was Misunderstood.

A Russian, who, although he has been some time in Paris, knows little or nothing of the French language, has just been sentenced to a month's imprisonment for having assaulted a policeman. He had also been accused of having insulted the agent of the law, but he was acquitted on that count after an explanation from his counsel that the word which the policeman regarded as objectionable was also a Russian word, and perfectly innocent.
